Subject: questions and concerns about public comment period and draft work plan for Parcel G Hunters Point Shipyard Superfund Site

Hello Mr. Robinson,

I am writing with a few questions about the Parcel G work plan and the public comment period.

1. Why weren't we sent a copy of the fact sheet and plan? How can the public comment on a plan when we are not provided a copy of that plan?
2. Your fact sheet on Parcel G work plan states that contractors have been hired. We also understand that an RFP will be issued for additional work soon.

However, how can you hire contractors to implement a work plan that still - supposedly - is just in draft form. The purpose of a public comment period is to solicit public input on the adequacy of the draft plan and to use that input to finalize a plan, which could result in significant changes. Proceeding with hiring contractors and beginning work before a work plan is finalized undermines the legitimacy and makes a mockery of the so-called public comment period.

3. We are also concerned about the continued refusal of government agencies to provide resources for independent community technical oversight in the retesting and cleanup processes.

Please respond as soon as possible to these questions and concerns. Thank you.
